

REFAB 2018

Abstract "Biotechnological production of flavors – efficient and sustainable"

Speaker: Dr. Peter Welters, Phytowelt GreenTechnologies GmbH

The possibilities of using biotechnological methods to create sustainable products are nearly endless: Valuable products like natural flavors are perfect for biotechnological production. To create a sustainable approach and get close to circular economy, biorefineries are the perfect kind of production plant to be efficient.